Exchange announced the death of Secretary Windom at a public meeting of the Exchange jesterday. A committee was appointed to draft resolutions of regret.

Ex-Senator Thomas C. Platt said in conversadraft resolutions of regret.

Ex-Senator Thomas C. Flatt said in conversation yesterday:

"I cannot but regard the death of Secretary Windom at this critical time in the fibancial affairs of the country, as a national calamity. Every Republican must consider it an irreparable loss to the party. Entering the Cabinet under unfavorable circumstances and with much opposition growing out of party jealousy, he quietly and uncessingly attended to the functions of the office, and has gradually strengthened himself in the position until even his enemies have been ready to acknowledge that his administration of the affairs of the department has been a success. The strong financial men of the country nave come to believe it and I do not hesitate to say that no man who ever occupied the position enjoyed more thoroughly the confidence of the recopie. His readiness to consult with financial men of every section of the country and to be governed by the opinions of their combined, judgment strengthened him very materially. In all of these conferences with the financial ment twas very evident that there was no desire to pander in any way to the wishes of Wall streat apeculators, for at the several conferences held by the Fectratary at the Subtreasury in the last few months some of the most eminent dry goods merchants of New York were present. This in itself was evidence of the Secretary's desire to ascertain the legitimate demands of the public, as represented by bankers and business men generally. He was ever careful, considerate, conservative, and particite in all his financial actions. Every itspublican and every business man, whatever his party politics, will greatly regret the Secretary's deair.

his party politics, will greatly regret the Secretary's death."

Super-titiously inclined persons talked yesterday about the fact that by the absence of four nivited guests thirteen, including Secretary Windom, were left to sit at the table of honor in the banquet hall. There was some comment also on the fact that it was within three days of a year ago that Secretary Tracy's house was burned and his wife was killed. At that time the Secretary was contemplating a trip to New York with the other members of the Cabinet to attend the United Siates Supreme Count celebration.

The Ohio Society met last night at its rooms. 255 Fifth avenue, with Gen. Wager Swarme in the chair, and adopted commemorative resolutions. Treadent Swayne appointed this committee to attend the funcal as representatives of this sectory. Senators John Sherman, William R. Ailson. John P. Jones. Preston H. Plumb, and Henry E. Payne, and Simon Wolf, all of Washington, and from New York A. L. Barber, Homer, Lee, Gen, John F. Wing, Judge Warren Higley, Frederick C. Train, and Mahlen Chance.

Mrs. Windom and the two daughters. Florsore and Nellie, are bearing their grief with great fortifiede. Miss liatch, one of Mrs. Windom's sisters (a member of the household); Mrs. J. Stanley lirown the daughter of President Garfield, and Miss Colgate of New York, a friend who has been visiting the family, remained with them during a greater part of last night, and are with them to-day. Mr. George the family.

The only son, Mr. Wm. D. Windom, is travelling in the South, and is expected to reach home to-morrow night. Mrs. Windom's other sister. Mrs. John Douglass, living in Minneaudis, has been heard from, and will arrive here with her husband on Sunday evening. Mr. George Hatch of Boston, her only brother, will probably arrive here to-night or to-morrow. Ar. Windom's mearest relatives now living are the widow and three sons of a brother, who live at Sterling. III.

CONGRESS ADJOURNS. There was a feeling of sadness in the Senate this morning when the Senators already apprised of the death of their old-time colleague, gathered to listen to the opening prayer of the charlain, who referred in feeling words to the sudden death of Secretary Windom. The journal of yesterday was read, and as soon as the reading was ended. Mr. Morrill of Verment rose, and in a voice full of emotion said:

"In consequence of the recent calamity which has visited us in the sudden decase of a former eminont member of this bedyfamd a distinguished oillors of the Government, the Secretary of the Treasury, I move that the Secretary of the Treasury, I move that the distinguished officer of the Government, the Secretary of the Freesury, I move that the Secretary of the Freesury, I move that the Secretary of the Beautiful Communication of the Secretary of Communication of Secretary of the Secretary of the Secretary was a member of this ledy, and for twelve years a member of this ledy, and for twelve years a member of the second secretary who for its years was a member of this ledy, and for twelve years a member of the second sec branch and in the Senate of the Shite of Minne-ola.

The resolutions were unanimously adopted, and, on motion of Mr. Mckiniey, the House adjourned.

The Speaker appointed the following committee to attend the funeral: Messrs. Mckinley, Mills, Funnell, Holman, O'Neill of Pounsylvania, Fornov, Vandever, Blount, and Shider.

Senator Davis has issued a call for a meeting of the Minnesota delegation in Congress tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock to take appropriate action with reference to the death of Secretary Windom. The meeting will be held in the room of the Senate Committee on Pensions. alons. The Gridiron Club determined to day to postpone its annua dinner, which was to be given to-morrow night, for one week on account of the deart of Secretary Windom, who was the personal friend of many of its members, and was a guest of the club at its annual dinner last year. Elaborate preparations that been readed by the dinner, at which President Harricon. Secretary Blanc, and Secretary Rusk were to have been among the guests.

ABRIVAL OF THE REMAINS.

ARRIVAL OF THE REMAINS. The President and the members of his Cabi-net assembled at the list imore and Ohio Rail-road station at 4.15 P. M. to receive the re-mains of Secretary Windom, whom they last saw alive on Tuesday at the regular meeting of the Cabinet.

The remains arrived in Washington at 4:30, and were received by a distinguished assemblace, including heariy all the leading public officials in Washington. All the bureaus, divisions, and branches of the Treasury Department were represented by their principal officials and many of the clerks and subordinate employees. These all assembled at the Treasury Department at 6 clerks and went to the rallroad station in a body.

The President's party consisted of the President's party consisted of the President Vice-President Mopton. Secretary and Mirs. Blaine. Secretary Proctor. Presimanter-General Wannamaker, Necretary Noble. Secretary Rusk, Gen. Schofield, and Solicitor-General Tatt. They stood with heads uncovered while the casket containing the remains was removed from the car and placed on a stand proparel for it. It was then taken in charge by eight members of Company B of the Treasury National Guard, under Lieut. Moore, and borne to the hearse.

Boon afterward a procession was formed and moved out of the station in the following order: The body bearers with the casket on their aboutders, the President and the Secretary of State, the Secretary of War and the Postmaster-General, the Rev. Dr. Hamilin, pastor of the Church of the Covenant. Secretary fusic, the Altorney-General and the Secretary of the Navy, the Secretary of War and the Postmaster-General Tatt. Assistant Secretary Braulding and Treasurer Huston. First Comptroller Matthews Second Compfroller Glikerson, Second Auditor Patterson. Fourth Auditor Lynch. Commissioner Holiday, Register Rosserans. Senator Washburn, and Assistant Secretarys is late residence, 1,422 Massachusetts avenue, and Massachusetts avenue to the Secretary's late residence, 1,422 Massachusetts avenue, where the stricken family were awaiting its arrival.

The President and all of his official family followed the remains into the house and waited in the back parior while the undertaker and his assistants placed the body in the f ident Harrison, and would be able to bring some strong influence to bear in behalf of his appointment.

At the Treasury Department, however, it seems to be the opinion among the chief officials that the Irealient will not go to Congress to pick out some defeated Republican to place at the head of the Treasury Department, but it is thought rather that he will follow the precedent set by several of his predecessors and promote the First Assistant Secretary to the vacancy. The man who at present holds this office is Gen. Nettleton of Minnesots, who was a warm friend of Secretary Windom, and who was his trusted and confidential representative in the Treasury Department, acting as Secretary whenever Mr. Windom was absent from his desk. The Minnesota influence, including that of Mr. Windom's own friends, will be brought to bear in favor of the promotion of Gen. Nettleton, and it may be that his chances are as good as those of any defeated Republican statesman.

At the Capitel the name of Lyman J. Gage. President of the Chicago World's Fair Commission, was specken of, and it was said that his friends would urge his name upon the President.

Mr. Gage has made the reputation of a shrewd inancier and business man, and it is thought that his claims would make a strong increasion on the President. It is said tonight also that President Harrison intimated to a friend to-day that he might give serious consideration to the name of his persecution friends to be presented the model to his not unlikely that the piace may be offered him, in which case it is certain be would accept.

MR. WINDOM'S PROPERTY.

A Great Deal of His Money Locked Up in a Silver Mine in Colorado.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 30 .- "William Windom legislation which coddles the iron, the oval, and the manufacturing interest-, and which is hostile to one of the two great interests of that portion of the United States west of the Missouri River." said Mr. W. A. Bennett. a personal friend of the late Secretary of the Trensury, and who had been associated with him in all his mining operations.
"It was my good fortune." continued Mr.

Bennett. "to know Mr. Windom from the time he was an obscure tailor's apprentice in Windom ta Minn. until he became the favorite candidate of his adopted State for the Presidency.

ASSEMBLYMAN DEMARESTS CASE. The Orand Jury After Missing Evidence-Other Queer Transactions.

NYACE, Jan. 80.-The consideration of Assemblyman Demarest's case was begun by the Grand Jury on Wednesday afternoon. Last night they adjourned until Feb. 11, to procure, if possible, the forged papers on which the affidavit of Tax Collector John T. Gurdineer of Upper Nyack is based. It is rumored that these most essential documents have been destroyed.

Another queer financial transaction by the Little Giant" was reported in Nyack to-day by the Treasurer of the Rockland County Industrial Association of which Demarest was to the support of the sailors and defeated the soldiers.

"The latter, in revenge, attacked and nearly killed a native, and sixty non-commissioned officers and men, armed with atteks and from bars, lay in ambush for the thirty native workmen in the dockyard, but the Colonel, hearing of the design, sent a strong escort of troops, who took the riotous soldiers prisoners. Dr. Outerbridge, a member of the colonial Parliament, was waylaid and robbed by two of the ruffians. Twenty men of the regiment are down for trial by court martial."

Mr. Barker Has the Furniture, but Prom-

Justice Duffy at the Essex Market Police Court yesterday dismissed the complaint of grand larceny made against Charles B. Barker by Mrs. Florence Potter, who says she is an actress. She had been living with Mr. Barker at 368 West Fity-first street. Barker had an income of $12,000 a year. He is a married man. He took Mrs. Potter to Europe and also made several yachting trips with her. They finally parted, and on July 25, 1899. Barker packed up the furniture in the flat they had occupied and at 358 West Fitty-first etreet. Barker had an income of $12.000 a year. He is a married man. He took Mrs. Potter to Europe and also made several yachting trips with her. They finally parted, and on July 25, 1830. Barker packed up the furniture in the flat they had occupied and put it in a storage house. Hence the charge of larceny. Mrs. Fotter asserted that she had paid for the furniture.

In dismissing the complaint Justice Duffy said his symmathies were with Mrs. Potter, and that the case should not have been brought in a criminal court. He declined to shake hands with Mr. Barker or his lawyer. Mr. Barker promised to give Mrs. Potter the furniture.

TESTIMONY AGAINST RHETT.

HE IS HELD UNDER $5,000 BAIL ON MARY MORRIS'S COMPLAINT.

en Lally and McCue Positive in Their Assertions That They Had Seen the Prisoner in the Company of Little Flower Girls Before the Night of His Arrest, The examination in the Bhett case occupied the greater part of Justice Taintor's time in the Tomba Court yesterday. There were two sessions. In the morning the testimony against William B. Rhett on the charge of assaulting Mary Morris was completed, and at 4:30 the testimony on the two charges of abduction began. Elbridge T. Gerry, with his agents and the four little girls-Mary Morris. Katie Flynn, Maggie Closky, and Mary Williams-arrived in court early, and a few moments later William B. Rhett entered, accompanied by his father, bis counsel, ex-Senator Thomas F. Grady,

John S. Abney, and several friends. Edward Lally, a night cabman, was the first witness. He has been driving cabs from the Cortlandt street ferry for two or three years. He recognized the defendant, and said he had first seen him in the early part of December about 8:45 o'clock at night, when Rhett had with him two little girls, whom Lally identified as Mary Morris and Katie Flynn. Lally was sitting on the baggage counter with George McCue, another cabman, when Mary Morris asked him who owned a certain cab, saying that she had a call for him. Then Rhett and the two girls entered the cab and the curtains were pulled down. Lally drove to Broadway and Seventeenth street and then was ordered to return to the ferry. At Fourth and Mercer streets he watered his horse and they all had drinks.

"Didn't you stop to get a drink rather for yourself than for the horse?" saked Lawyer Grady.

killed while trying to force his way into the house of Dr. Knowles. George Knowles fired the fatal shot. The committee had gone to the house to force the Doctor to allow his brother Jay and his wife the use of rooms in the residence. Jay's wife was sick and their home had leen burned by the Doctor, it is alleged, and they had no place to remain over night. The Doctor refused to take his brother's family in, although there were at least half a dezen unoccupied rooms in the house. Jay Knowles joined the committee, and it was for him that the builtet which killed John Waiers was intended. The Doctor and his wife applauded the killing of Waters, and told George to shoot again and kill Jay. The vicilance committee after the murder almost tore the house apart. The Doctor, his wife, and son were tried and convicted of manslaughter. The son was sentenced to seven each.

ALBANY, Jan. 30.-The State Federation of Labor this morning adopted resolutions favoring the Subsidy bill now before Congress. OUR RELATIONS WITH CANADA. Dealal of the Story of a Trade Proposal

TORONTO, Jan. 30,-The Globe to-day publishes the cor espondence on the reciprocity question between Secretary Plaine and Mr. Baker, and, in an article on the subject, says; "The reports set affont from Ottaws to the effect that the United States Government had made a trade proposal, and that the alleged proposal was only confined to reciprocity in natural products have received an effectual quietus. Our Washington correspondent. speaking on good authority, states this morning that a short time ago Sir Julian Pauncefote, acting, as was believed at the instance of Sir John Macdonald, began to throw out feelers to the State Department at Washington for a reciprocity treaty of some treaty with Canada on the basis of unrestricted trade, but that it was not ready to discuss sort. In a purely informal manner, Mr. Blaine stated that the United States Government was prepared to treat with Great Britain for a treaty with Canada on the basis of unrestricted trade, but that it was not ready to discuss any proposition which fell short of that.

"This is the whole history of the trade proposal said to have been made by the United States Government, which the Canadian ministerial journals announced had been referred to England. Mr. Blanne's letter to Mr. linker emphasizes the fact that nothing whatever, formal or informal, is now in progress letween the two diovernments relating to any trade arrangements with us, and none will be entertained by the authorities at Washington uniess it goes beyond natural products.

"Our Washington correspondent has Mr. McKinley's authority for denying in tote Sir John Macdonnid's allegation that hints or suggestions had been given or sent to the tommittee of Ways and Means at Washington relative to duties affecting Canadian products, but that was an ordinary campaign roorback by comparison with the elaborate fiction bungtured by Mr. Blaine. The people of Canada now know exactly where they stand on this matter. Sir John Macdonald has simply been humbugging them, and but for Mr. Blaine's denial he would probably have gone on humbugging them with lables about partial reciprocity until after the elections. The piain speaking of Mr. Blaine compels him to face a square issue, which is whether we shall have absolute free trade with our neighbors or whether we shall perpotuate the wretched policy of restriction that injures both us and them."

The Empire, the Government organ, referring to the visit of Editor Farrer of the Gobe to Washington, says:

"Surely in no other country has the spectacle been presented, as in Canada of its public men making visits to a foreign nation there to take counsel with foreigners would be widely different. But Canadians are well-known to be such counsel with foreigners would be widely different. But Canadians are well-known to be so long suffering that bictlers are encouraged to the belief that almost anything short of overt trasson may be percented with impu-

In Portland the whiskey war has already begun, and there is almost a panic among the liquor dealers. Special deputies are scouring the city, and from Graham's Corner to the the city, and from Graham's Corner to the Western Fromenade consternation reigns among handlors of "the stuff." A great deal of liquor has aircady been selzed, and the dep-uties declare that they are in the work for all summer and propose to run the town dry. The principal hotels all have bars, and the pro-prietors are as mad as wet hens over the new turn in affairs. They threaten to close their houses to transient customers.

OLEANFIELD, Pa., Jan. 30,-The Clearfield county real estate of ex-Senator Wallace was sold to-day at Sheriff's sale, and the whole amount realized was $30,000. This is subject to mortgages and Hens amounting to about $130,000. The proceeds of the sale go to satisfying judgments confessed prior to the assignment to the extent of $73,000. The property was bought by Thomas L. Wallace of Harris-was bought by Thomas I., Wallaco of Harris-burg.

Senator Wallaco is his agent and will manage the projecty to pay prior liens and other debts. He is sanguine he can pay all. No part of the large coal property of 5.200 acres was sold.

Kerosene and Matches Spilled in the Hall, Dr. David B. Gould lives on the first floor of 141 Hester street. The upper part of the building is occupied by a Jewish firm of close manufacturers. They use a large number of machines which when they are all running. make a great deal of noise.

Recently the Doctor complained to the landlord of the noise, and threatened to move if it did not cease. On returning home last night, about 10 evicet, Dr. Gould discovered that the carpet in the front part of the hall had been saturated with kerosene, and that a great number of parlor matches had been strewn around. He notified the police.
